FOURTEENTH REPORT
OF THE
GENERAL PRISONS BOARD, IRELAND.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY ROBERT OFFLEY ASHBURTON
MILNES, BARON HOUGHTON,

LORD LIEUTENANT GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

General Prisons Board,
Dublin Castle,
September, 1892.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

1. We have the honour, pursuant to statute, to present this 40 & 41 Vic.
cap. 49. sec. 15
our Fourteenth Annual Report on the condition of the prisons and prisoners within our jurisdiction, and in respect to the registration of habitual criminals, during the year ended 31st March, 1892.

I.—LOCAL PRISONS.

2. Since the date of our last Report, the only reduction we Closing of have effected in the number of prisons and bridewells has been the closing of the bridewell at Donegal and that at Mitchelstown, which were closed on the 30th September, 1891, and the 31st July, 1892, respectively. By this step the number of bridewells has been reduced to 16, which, with 20 ordinary large prisons, 6 minor prisons, 3 convict prisons, and 1 lock-up, makes a total of 46 places of detention under our control.

3. The enlargement of the cells at Londonderry and Sligo Enlargement of cells.
Prisons, referred to in paragraph 3 of our last Annual Report, has been completed, and the cells are now in use. There are in the former prison twenty enlarged cells, in which prisoners under long sentences can be detained, each cell containing at least 1,100 cubic feet, and in the latter prison twenty-one cells, containing 950 cubic feet each.

Belfast Prison.

4. In the same paragraph of our last Report reference was also made to the enlargement of Belfast Prison. In order to carry out this scheme it has been decided to convert the east block of the male prison into the female prison, and to make other reconstructions and additions to the existing buildings. The Treasury have also sanctioned the purchase of four acres of land adjacent to the prison, but, so far, the Board have not been able to obtain possession of the land, and therefore it has been impossible to take any steps yet to carry out the improvements.

5. In view of a decline during the past year in the numbers committed to this prison, fortunately no inconvenience has been experienced from want of accommodation, nor has it been necessary, as it frequently was in former years, to remove batches of prisoners from Belfast to other prisons. Having regard, however, to the increasing population of this city and district, it may not be wise to delay very long in providing for increased prison accommodation.

Number of prisoners.

6. It is satisfactory to be able to observe in our report for this year, that there has been a decline in the number of local prisoners committed during the twelve months ended 31st March last, and that the daily average number of prisoners for that year as shown by Table on page 14 has been lower than for any year since 1872. On the other hand, the number of convicts has somewhat increased during the last as compared with the previous year, but is lower than in 1889, as will be seen on reference to Table on page 23. The increase in the past year is partially accounted for by the operation of the Penal Servitude Act of 1891, which reduced the minimum sentence of penal servitude from five to three years. If the prisoners sentenced to three or four years penal servitude were deducted from the whole, the number of convicts would be only slightly in excess of that of last year.

Expenditure.

7. In Table XLIV. are given the details of expenditure, from which it will be observed that, compared with the cost of prisons before the year when they passed into the hands of the Board, the total saving now shown is very considerable, and there is no doubt that the large sums that have been spent in the alteration of our prisons have effected enormous improvements both from a sanitary and disciplinary point of view.

Prison dress.

8. In paragraph 7 of our last year's report, reference is made to the rules passed in 1889 as to local prisoners' dress. During the year 1891-2 only 19 prisoners availed themselves of the privilege of wearing their own in lieu of prison dress under these rules, as against 58 in the previous year; and only 2 prisoners availed themselves of the provisions of the 16th section of 19 & 20 Vic., cap. 68, in regard to exemption from labour by payment of the expense of their prison allowance of food.

Exemption from labour.

9. The usual returns of the punishment of local prisoners for prison offences will be found in Table XIII in the Appendix, which also shows the number of prisoners who passed through prison without receiving any such punishment. From these returns it will be seen that only 12.9 per cent. of the total number of prisoners have received punishment for breaches of prison rules. The uniformity of the present system throughout the country, together with the stimulus to industry supplied by a system of gratuities, may be attributed as the cause of this satisfactory condition of things. These facts are all the more satisfactory when it is considered that about one-third of all the prisoners committed to the local prisons are wholly illiterate.

10. Details as to the education of local prisoners will be found in the Appendix, Tables VI. and VII.

The number committed to the larger local prisons during the year who were "wholly illiterate" was 11,835 or 32.5 per cent. of the total commitments to those prisons, while the proportion of illiterates of the population, five years old and upwards in Ireland, who could neither read nor write, is shown by the Census of 1891 to be only 18.4 per cent.

11. In our report of last year, we drew attention to the inactivity of some of the prison chaplains in regard to their supervision of the literary improvement of the prisoners. We have drawn the attention of several chaplains to the requirements of the prison rules in this respect, but are sorry to state that these gentlemen show little or no interest in the subject, which is much to be regretted; for, making every allowance for the short periods allotted to the secular instruction of prisoners during the day, we are of opinion that much more could be done if the chaplains would take a greater interest in the matter and supervise the secular instruction of prisoners oftener than they do.

12. Some of the chaplains on being remonstrated with have actually stated that no good can come either from the mode of instruction or from the time allowed for such, but it will be seen from Table VII. in the Appendix that out of a total of 591 prisoners under instruction who on admission to prison were wholly ignorant of reading, 403 were, on discharge, or at the end of the year, able to read easy monosyllables or an easy book; that 437 who were wholly ignorant of writing, had learned to form letters, &c.; and that 490 who were wholly ignorant of arithmetic, had been taught during their imprisonment to form figures and work simple addition sums, besides which a considerable number had been promoted from Class II. to Class III. during the year.

Literary
prisoners.

It is right, however, to say that there are some pleasing exceptions to the unwillingness generally of the chaplains to supervise the secular instruction of the prisoners; and, in order to show that most of these gentlemen are in error in their excuse for this omission of duty on their part, we attach an extract from a report of the Roman Catholic Chaplain of a local prison showing clearly that where an interest is taken, good work can be performed in such matters;—

"I examined a man named J. S. in reading; at the time of admission he was quite ignorant even of the letters: now, owing to the careful instruction of the prison teacher, he is able to read the Prayer Book well, and he can also write a fairly good hand."

This prisoner has only been ten months in prison and was quite illiterate on committal.

Short sentences.

13. In the Board's former reports they have frequently drawn attention to the evil of sending persons to prison simply for a few hours, and especially in cases of habitual and frequent offenders. Although the annexed table shows a decrease in the number of short sentences imposed during the year 1891-2, yet the Board regret to observe that the proportion of such short sentences to the full number of sentences is almost as large as ever.

14. From this Table it will be seen that 65 per cent. of the entire number of sentences were for terms of 14 days or under, while those sentenced to 6 months or over, only represent 3 per cent. of the whole.

15. When it is borne in mind that each prisoner committed must be bathed, dressed, and inspected by the medical officer, and possibly sent to hospital; also that the description, height, weight, &c., of every prisoner must be taken, and noted in a register, the amount of time, trouble, and expense incurred for such lengthy but necessary labour must be considered as altogether out of proportion to the advantage secured in very short commitments. In England, the Board are informed, the practice is to discharge in court all persons sentenced to one day's imprisonment only. If this practice could be followed here, a considerable saving of valuable time and costly expenditure would be effected; but the custom in Ireland outside the Metropolitan District is to sentence prisoners to a certain number of hours in gaol, which prevents the course followed in England in this respect being adopted here.

16. The usual Annual Reports of the Governors of the several Prisons will be found in the Appendix, pages 94 to 114, relating to the labour and various industries carried on in the Prisons under their charge, and the profit accruing therefrom. Industrial Labour.

17. The summarised statements in regard to profits have hitherto been framed upon an unsatisfactory basis, and without sufficient information. Under a new system adopted this year, the net profit realized on the various descriptions of industrial labour carried on in the several prisons during the year 1891-92 is shown to have been £2,879 11s. 3d., in addition to which there were "extra receipts" to the amount of £166 10s. 9d.

18. The new system of store accounting having been tested again this year, we are happy to be able to report that the Exchequer and Audit Department, as in former years, has acknowledged the progress to be creditable to the officers of the service, and generally satisfactory to that Department.

19. Full details as to the commitment of juveniles will be found in Tables XV., XVI., and XVII. of the Appendix. It is satisfactory to observe that the number of this class of prisoners has gradually declined for the last ten years. In the year 1882-3, the male juveniles numbered 963, the females 122, making a total of 1,085; whereas for the year 1891-2 they numbered respectively 513 and 75, total 588, or not much more than half of the total of the former year. Juveniles.

20. But still we find that little children are sometimes committed to prison, and a mark of infamy placed upon them for life, in some instances for trivial offences—cases which, to our mind, would be more profitably dealt with under the Probation of First Offenders Act,—50 & 51 Vic. Cap. 25.

21. Returns have been obtained from the various Petty Sessions and Police Courts in Ireland showing the number of cases dealt with under this Act during the year 1890. From Probation of First Offenders Act.

these returns it appears that in 519 Petty Sessions Districts the provisions of the Act were never once applied during the year. In forty-three districts one case is reported as having been dealt with in each district. In each of the remaining forty districts two or more cases were dealt with—by far the greatest number being in Belfast, where fifty-five cases were dealt with during the year. The total number of cases returned was 232. When this number is compared with the total number of persons committed to prison for the first time during the year, 1890-91, namely, 11,694, and when it is remembered that as many as 568 juveniles, i.e., persons under sixteen years of age, were committed to prison during the same period, there is still, to all appearance, much scope for the application of this Act throughout the country. It is to be hoped that the Circular lately issued by the Government to the Magistrates of the various Petty Sessions on this subject may result in more general use being made of the merciful and salutary provisions of this statute.

22. It is significant of the beneficial results of the Act that so far as can be ascertained from the returns furnished, only one of the 232 cases dealt with under this Act during the year 1890 had subsequently to be proceeded against and punished.

23. In connection with this subject the Board append particulars of a few cases of first convictions committed to prison during year 1891-92:—

Prison.	Infirmary Name.	Sex.	Age. Years.	Offence.	Sentence.	Remarks.
Waterford.	M. C.	F.	22	Drunkenness.	48 hours, or 4s. fine.	Far advanced in pregnancy when committed. Was at once ordered by surgeon to be in association at night, and to be placed on second class diet.
Castlerea.	N. E.	F.	about 35 or 70	Drunkenness.	7 days' imprisonment, or 2s. 6d. fine and 1s. 6d. cost.	Died in prison suddenly day after committal. Verdict of coroner's jury as to cause of death—"Failure of the heart's action."
Glenmel.	W. D.	M.	10	Throwing missiles at electric telegraph.	14 days, and 2 yrs. in Reformatory.	The hardship of this case was reported by the Chairman to the Lords Justices, who ordered the boy's discharge at the expiration of the 14 days' imprisonment.
Cork M.	P. H.	M.	80	Larceny.	7 days.	This man had at once to be placed on extra diet, being "aged and feeble."

TABLE—continued.

Prison.	Initials of Name.	Sex.	Age. Years.	Crime.	Sentence.	Remarks.
Limerick F.	B. C.	F.	80	Larceny.	1 cal. m.	This woman passed most of her sentence in the prison hospital, owing to old age and debility. On release she was taken charge of by her son, who stated he had searched five counties for her.
Monaghan.	J. R.	M.	78	Vagrancy.	7 days' H. L.	Was placed in hospital at once by Medical Officer, being infirm and unfit for hard labour.
Londonderry.	J. M.	M.	14½	Malignant injury to electric telegraph.	8 weeks' H. L.	These prisoners were discharged before the termination of their sentence by order of the Lords Justices.
	E. L.	M.	14½	Do.	Do.
Galway.	O. H.	F.	96	Having illicit spirits.	3 cal. m. Impr., or 28	This woman was discharged in consequence of commutation of her sentence after nine days' imprisonment, during which she had to be fed on invalid diet, and was also ordered stimulants by the medical officer. On discharge she had to be accompanied home by a prison officer in a special covered conveyance.

In the examples given above of the commitment of first offenders to prison, we have selected a few of the most flagrant cases, irrespective of whether the individuals were young people—to whom it appears this Act was more especially meant to apply—or first offenders of advanced years. It will be observed that one of these cases—a poor old woman who had arrived at sixty-five or seventy years of age, without ever having been in prison before—was then committed to prison for seven days for drunkenness, and died there.

24. We have also had reported to us quite recently the case of a child of the tender age of twelve years, committed on remand for larceny, who when brought to the prison was so terrified that she was soon after found almost in a state of collapse. Under all these circumstances we cannot but think that if Justices of the Peace would give greater attention to the Circular issued by the Government on this subject, such lamentable instances of hardship and danger to life would be fewer, and that the benefits of this Act would be extended to a great number of persons who are now sent to prison on short sentences for the first time.

Number of Prisoners.

25. We here submit two abstracts—the first showing the number in custody on the first day of the year 1851, and of certain subsequent years at intervals down to the present year; and the second dealing with the number of commitments, and the daily average number in custody, during each year since 1854. In Table II. of the Appendix will be found the numbers of all classes of prisoners in custody in each local prison on the first day of each month of the year 1891-2.

26. In our last two Reports we have referred to the number of prisoners under the Criminal Law and Procedure Act, 26 of whom were returned as in custody on the 31st March, 1890, and 18 on the 31st March, 1891, but this year on the same date they numbered only 5.

27. Annexed is a table dealing with the numbers confined in Bridewells for the last twenty years, which show a gradual and satisfactory decrease during that period from 10,283 in the year 1871 to 2,200 in the year 1891-2.

1877 . 5,576	1884-85 . 3,337	1891-92 . 2,200

From the time when the Board were invested with the management of Local Prisons in 1878 up to the present, they have reduced the number of Bridewells from 95 to 16—thus lessening in number a class of prisons in this country unknown in England, and most of which were altogether unsuitable, both from a sanitary and disciplinary point of view, for the detention of human beings.

28. We beg to call attention to the disadvantage at which officers in the Irish Prisons Service are placed, compared with officers of a similar rank in England in the matter of salary and emoluments.

29. As an instance of the great injustice of this inequality, we may quote that whereas in England the salary of an Assistant Matron commences at £45, in Ireland it is only £35, and the difference is further increased by the fact that in England such officers are provided with furnished apartments, whereas in this country they must provide their own furniture. The English female officers, we understand, also receive a better allowance for uniforms.

30. With a view to placing our officers more nearly on an equality with those in England, and so inducing young women of superior ability and position to enter our service, we recently recommended that all female officers appointed in future should be supplied with suitable furniture; and, inasmuch as we are of opinion that the present staff of female officers is not at all what it ought to be, we propose bringing this question again before the Government at the proper time—i.e., in connection with the preparation of the next estimates.

31. It will be seen from the above table showing the number of meetings of the several Visiting Committees, and the number of visits paid by their members to prisons, that in some of the larger prisons these gentlemen have attended frequently and regularly, with one exception, namely, that of Castlesbar, where no visits have been paid during the year by the Visiting Committee. In minor prisons, however, these gentlemen have not taken as much interest in their duties as might be desired under the circumstances; for although prisons of this latter class are only used for short commitments, yet there are on the whole large numbers committed to them from time to time.

32. Some of the Visiting Committee and especially particular members of them render very important, and at times, onerous services to the Board in dealing with ill-conducted prisoners, and the Board are bound to recognise with gratitude the valuable assistance frequently afforded by these gentlemen in connection with their duties.

33. We have again to express our regret that there has been no addition during the year to certified Prisoners' Aid Societies, but on the contrary it was found necessary to withdraw the grant made to the Shelter in Harcourt-street for Protestant Female Convicts on account of the closing of the Institution.

Prisoners' Aid Societies.

34. By means of our Agent for Discharged Prisoners we are enabled to make inquiries, and frequently to assist such prisoners while they remain in the Dublin district from charitable funds that are at our disposal, but throughout the country, as we have already remarked in previous reports, the want of Prisoners' Aid Societies must be very much felt by prisoners, who are thrown entirely upon their own resources and find great difficulty after their discharge from prison in earning an honest livelihood.

35. The details of the works of improvement, repairs, and alterations, including various sanitary improvements in our local prisons, will be found in Table XXII of the Appendix.

Work of reconstruction, &c.

It will be seen by these returns that our heaviest and chief works during the past year consisted in alterations of sewerage in order to perfect as far as possible the sanitary arrangements of the prisons, which from year to year are being made more complete.

36. Since our last report the Board have constructed a bakery in Cork Male Prison, which has been in operation since June, enabling both the male and female prisons in that city to be supplied with home-made bread of most excellent quality. The baking of the bread in this prison is of so recent date that we cannot quite estimate what the annual saving will be, but it is clear that there will be a saving on the former cost of this necessary to both prisons, and there is no doubt that the purity of the home-made article has great advantages.

Cork bakery.

37. The average daily number of prisoners in the local prisons during the year was 2,506; the number of deaths was 9, a death rate of 3·6 per thousand on the daily average number in custody. The death rate per thousand for the estimated population of the whole of Ireland during the same period was 19·6. It will be observed that while the death rate is below the average of the last thirteen years, the number of deaths this year has exceeded that of last year by 6; but, as pointed out in our last report, the mortality last year was exceptionally low. Appended is a table of mortality among prisoners for each year during the last thirteen years.

prisoners.

38. The causes of the nine deaths will be found in the Appendix Table XI. Three were the result of diseases originating before committal, one (from syncope) occurred on the first day of a re-committal, one was a case of suicidal strangulation, one arose from apoplexy, one from cerebral hæmorrhage, and two resulted from typhoid fever and its complications.

39. There have been outbreaks of typhoid fever in four of the local prisons during the twelve months. In Tullamore there were eleven cases, in Clonmel four*, in Galway ten, and in Mountjoy two. Out of these twenty-seven cases, two terminated fatally, as mentioned above. In Tullamore Prison the invasion of the disease was remarkably sudden. On the 28th April seven prisoners, none of whom had previously complained, and five of whom had felt in their usual good health till the evening before, presented symptoms of serious illness, and in a few days four others were likewise sent to hospital. Very careful investigation was made as to the cause of the outbreak. The water supply was taken from a deep well within the prison precincts, and on account of typhoid fever being rife in the town of Tullamore, a specimen of the prison water had been sent for analysis six weeks before any fever occurred in the prison, and a favourable report was received.

40. In order to ascertain whether the drainage or any other sanitary condition in connection with the prison was responsible for the disease, Sir Charles Cameron, the Superintendent Medical Officer of Health for Dublin, and Mr. Kaye Parry, C.E., were specially commissioned to examine Tullamore Prison, and report. After full inquiry they reported on 14th May, sixteen days after the first appearance of the disease, 'that the building was well situated as regards sanitation, that they had examined and tested the sanitary fittings, and found them satisfactory, and that they had not detected any defect which could, in their opinion, have given rise to the outbreak of typhoid fever; that they had ascertained that there were a large number of cases in the town before the outbreak occurred at the goal, and that it can be easily understood that there are many ways in which the infection might have been carried into the prison from the town.' For three or four months immediately preceding, cases of typhoid fever in the town had been numerous and fatal, and as the prison was situated at the end of the town, forming in fact part of it, it was decided to remove the healthy prisoners temporarily to Clonmel. Very shortly after the transference to Clonmel, three of the prisoners thus removed developed typhoid fever there. While the prison was closed, improvements were carried out in the system of drainage, in accordance with plans prepared by Mr. Kaye Parry, C.E., in conjunction with Mr. Welland, C.E., the Board's Architect.

* Of these three were prisoners transferred from Tullamore in whom the fever developed as described below.

prisoners.

41. In Galway there had been a number of cases of typhoid fever in the town, in the neighbourhood of the prison, before the disease appeared in the prison itself. During the autumn there had been an unusual drought, and the level of the river had fallen unprecedentedly low, so that not only did the general water supply fail, but the neighbourhood of the river, close to which the prison is situated, became occasionally very offensive.

Of the two cases in Mountjoy Local Prison, one was suffering from fever when he was admitted.

42. There was no typhus fever.

43. There were fifty-four prisoners released on medical grounds, a diminution of forty-four from the previous year. Among the fifty-four are included twenty women who were very near their confinement, and who had been committed for short terms of imprisonment. Of the thirty-four remaining, twenty-one were cases of disease reported as having originated before reception into prison.

Prisoners
released on medical grounds.

44. There has been little change in the number of cases of insanity transferred from local Prisons to Asylums. The total number has been seventy-one. Of these, fifty-seven were reported as insane on committal, one as bordering on insanity, six as of weak mind, six as sane, while one, who had been insane on committal, recovered his sanity during imprisonment.

Insane
Prisoners.

45. We have repeatedly in our Reports called attention to the very objectionable and illegal practice prevalent throughout the country, of committing lunatics to gaol, instead of sending them direct to the asylums. We regret to be again obliged to place on record that little or no improvement has taken place in regard to this matter during the past year.

II.—CONVICT PRISONS.

Accommodation.

46. During the past year, the three Convict Prisons of Mountjoy, Maryborough, and Grangegorman, have afforded ample accommodation for the numbers of convicts committed, the cellular accommodation at Mountjoy (No. 1) Prison being 485; at Maryborough, 117; and at Grangegorman, 44.

47. The arrangement of the Classes continues the same as reported last year, viz. :—At Mountjoy, male probationers and advanced classes continue to be kept, while at Maryborough we have the invalid male class, the intermediate class, and the few prisoners that were removed from Downpatrick, all the classes being kept separate and apart from one another. Grangegorman is still the only female convict prison we have in Ireland, a portion of which is reserved entirely for their detention.

Number of Convicts.

48. From the subjoined Tables it may be seen that there is this year a slight increase in the number of male convicts, their numbers being 443, on the 1st January last, as against 435 on the 1st of January of the previous year; while the female convicts in custody on the 1st January of each year have increased from twenty-eight last year to thirty-seven this year. The cause of the slight increase has been already referred to at paragraph 6.

Building works.

49. The usual detailed accounts of the various works of reconstruction in the Convict Prisons will be found in the Appendix Table XXXIX.

At Mountjoy Prison, four additional warders' cottages have been completed, and are now inhabited, while the reconstruction of a wing of the local prison, and the conversion of it into cells is approaching completion. This building will contain about seventy cells, and it has been almost entirely reconstructed by prison labour. When this addition is complete, the practice that has been necessary for many years of removing local male prisoners from Dublin to the country for want of accommodation in the Dublin Prisons will, we trust, be no longer necessary, and thereby a very large outlay in regard to the transmission of prisoners will be saved.

50. The male convicts at Mountjoy have also been employed in taking down the old buildings at the newly acquired premises of Cowley-place, on which it is intended to commence as soon as possible another block of warders' cottages. By this means we shall be able, for some time, to provide out-door labour for the advanced classes of male convicts.

51. At Grangegorman Prison, we have introduced an entirely new system of drainage, but this, of course, has been performed by paid labour.

52. At Maryborough, the principal out-door labour is performed by the Intermediate Class, who have been employed in the erection of two additional warders' cottages.

53. It stands to reason that the Invalid Class can be only slightly utilised for labour purposes, and as they form the great majority of prisoners confined here, there can be very little result from their labour, this class being composed chiefly of old worn-out men, eccentric people, cripples, and other non-effective prisoners whose bodily ailments in most cases make them unfit for any labour.

54. In Table XL. in the Appendix will be found details of the employment and earnings of convicts during the year. Employment and earnings.

55. We have, in previous reports, shown how considerable the saving on the bread consumed at Mountjoy is, now that it is made on the premises, as compared with the cost when obtained by contract,—the estimated saving during the year 1891-2 being about 32 per cent. on the contract price for same amount of bread heretofore. 61. During the past year there were eight cases of typhoid fever in Mountjoy Convict Prison, resulting in two deaths. These were the only deaths that occurred in convict prisons, representing a death-rate of 4 per 1,000, a very low mortality, considering that many enter penal servitude with constitutions enfeebled by crime and excesses. Health of Convicts.

62. Seven convicts were released on medical grounds, and one was transferred as insane to the Criminal Lunatic Asylum.

63. As remarked in our last report, every care is taken to keep the first convictions and less depraved prisoners separated from the ordinary criminals, and to prevent their ever associating one with the other, either in the convict prisons or the local prisons. First Conviction Class.

64. In October, 1891, the Board received a communication from Mrs. Kirwan, Superiress of the Golden Bridge Female Convict Refuge, suggesting that, owing to the very few convicts of late years available to be sent there, they could be kept at Grange-gorman as a class. This matter was laid before Government, and it was decided that Mrs. Kirwan's suggestion should be Golden Bridge Refuge.
Refuge Class.

* In addition to this number there were 345 convicts under detention in the county prisons, and several hundreds in Bermuda and Gibraltar, who were subsequently discharged in Ireland.

adopted, owing to the very much reduced number of females who would now become due for the Refuge Class.

During 1890-91 these only numbered three, and as they can be perfectly well managed and given the same gratuities in Grangegorman as they received in the Refuge, they have now been formed into a separate class in that prison, consisting at present of only two convicts.

65. In closing our official connection with Mrs. Kirwan's valuable Institution at Golden Bridge, we feel it our duty to place on record the very important services which she for many years conferred in her excellent institution on female convicts. When there were a very large number of these annually sent to her she was unremitting in her endeavours for their reformation and advancement in life, and we believe was the means of inducing many old offenders to amend their ways, and of saving numbers of younger women from a life of crime and dissipation.

Dietaries.

66. In previous reports we have commented upon the desirability of a revision in the scales of convict dietaries, and our views on this subject have been laid before the Government for some years. We cannot but hope that this matter will soon engage the attention of the Executive, as it is one of very urgent importance.

Penal Servitude Act,
1891.

67. The passing of the Penal Servitude Act of 1891, which reduced the minimum sentence of penal servitude to three years, necessitated the revision of the scales of remission of sentence and rewards of convicts, and also some alteration in the convict rules.

68. In order that our system should accord with that in England, it was arranged that a conference should be held in London between the heads of the Prisons Departments of England, Ireland, and Scotland. The result was that a report was made to the Home Secretary containing various recommendations of the Committee, which were subsequently adopted both in England and Ireland.

69. This Committee also considered, and revised the old scale of remission of sentence which was somewhat complex, and, on their recommendation, it has now been simplified very much.

Of these modifications the chief are—

Remission of
sentence.

(1.) That in future male convicts should be allowed to earn marks during the nine months of separate confinement with which each sentence commences, in the same way as during the remainder of their sentence, so that the maximum remission which they may earn will be increased in each case by two and a quarter months, and may in future be exactly one-fourth part of the whole sentence.

(2.) That convicts serving remanets of former sentences, in consequence of the revocation or forfeiture of their licences, will be allowed to earn marks under the remanets in the same manner as convicts under original sentences. (This is provided for in section 3 of the Act of last session.)

Remission of sentence.

70. The adoption of these modifications much simplifies the rules with regard to the granting of licences under which in future the maximum remission obtainable will be, for male convicts, one-fourth of the sentence; for female convicts, one-third of the sentence.

The following tables show the minimum period that must be served, and the maximum remission that can be granted, under each of the ordinary terms of penal servitude:—

sentence.

71. The subject of the treatment of convicts recommitted to prison on revocation of licence was also considered by the Committee,

Formerly it was not possible for such convicts to earn any remission of the period to be passed in prison, but under the new Penal Servitude Act, and the recommendations of the Committee, they can now earn the same proportion of the remanet of their sentence as was allowed under their original imprisonment—namely, in the case of males, one-fourth, or of females, one-third of the remanet.

72. The revised rules have been carefully considered by the Board, and some of them are at present provisionally in force, including those in regard to the improved scales of remission.

III.—REGISTRATION OF CRIMINALS.

73. On reference to Table XLIII. in the Appendix full details will be found in regard to the number of Habitual Criminals registered during the past and several previous years.

74. The Alphabetical Registry of such criminals has been carried on to the end of the year 1891, and has as usual been issued.

75. It will be seen by the table referred to above that during the past year there has been a slight increase in the number of habitual criminals registered, as compared with the previous year, but that as, in the case of convicts, there has been of late years a very considerable falling off in their numbers; for whereas in 1874 they numbered 1,082, last year they numbered only 144.

IV —DEPARTMENTAL.

76. Owing to the Order in Council regulating sixty-five years as the maximum age up to which civil servants may remain in the service, the Vice-Chairman of our Board, Mr. W. P. O'Brien, C.B., being over that age, was obliged to retire.

77. Mr. O'Brien's retirement took place, much to the regret of his colleagues and every one connected with him in the service; as during the thirteen years of his connection with this department he had proved himself a most diligent, painstaking, and thoughtful officer in his dealings with all those with whom his duties brought him in contact. We sincerely hope that some other sphere of usefulness to the public may be open to him where his talents and energy may for a long time be exercised.

78. His place at our Board has been filled by the appointment thereto of Mr. John Mulhall, who entered on his duties on 1st March, 1892.

79. In September, 1891, our late Secretary, Mr. Mitchell, was transferred from this department to that of the Land Commission.

80. In the first instance the Board recommended Mr. Wm. Lamb, the senior officer and very efficient Accountant of this Department, for promotion to the Secretaryship, but having regard to his near approach to the limit of age at which civil servants are now required to retire, this appointment was not considered advisable.

81. The promotion of Mr. Douglas, one of the Second Division Clerks in the office, of over fourteen years' zealous service, was thereupon strongly recommended to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, who accordingly appointed this officer to succeed Mr. Mitchell as Secretary to the Board, and we have every confidence that he will prove as efficient and painstaking in his new office as he has hitherto done in the subordinate position of the service.

V.—APPENDIX.

82. We beg to refer to the Appendix for the several Tabular Returns, Official Reports and Circulars, &c., usually submitted with our Annual Reports.

We have the honour to be,

Your Excellency's obedient servants,

CHARLES F. BOURKE, Chairman.

JOHN MULHALL, Vice-Chairman.

TO
FOURTEENTH REPORT OF THE GENERAL
PRISONS BOARD.

PART I.

CIRCULARS AND CIRCULAR MEMORANDA.

CIRCULARS AND CIRCULAR MEMORANDA.

6616.

CIRCULAR No. 376.

General Prisons Board, Dublin Castle

19th June, 1891.

To the Governors (or other officers in charge) of the several Prisons.

As the purity of the milk supply is of special importance, it is desired that, in addition to the tasting of the milk by the Governor or his deputy on its delivery each morning and evening, the cream glass test shall be used and the number of degrees of cream entered in a book kept for the purpose. If the Governor, either from his own examination or from the lowness of the cream percentage, shall have reason to suspect that the milk is of inferior quality, he should direct the attention of the medical officer to it; and, if the latter should concur in his doubt, a specimen of the milk in question should be forthwith sent for analysis.

By order,

WM. LAMB.

377.

30th June, 1891.

To the Governors (or other officers in charge) of H.M. Prisons.

WARRANTS.

The Board desire to call the attention of the Governors of Prisons to the 32nd section of Act 14 and 15 Vic., cap. 93, sub-section 7, and to point out that the prisoner, in such cases, is properly committable to the gaol of the county in which the arrest is made, notwithstanding that the warrant may be addressed to the Governor of the gaol of another county, in which the warrant was issued.

The only exception is that mentioned in the sub-section, namely, where the arrest is made in a county adjoining that in which the warrant was issued.

By order of the Board,

F. W. D. MITCHELL, Secretary.

383.

16th September, 1891.

To the Governors (or other officers in charge), of the several Prisons and Bridewells.

PRIVATE PROPERTY OF PRISONERS.

The General Prisons Board direct that, in future, whenever money or other property of a prisoner, whether convicted or untried, is received by a prison officer from the police, a written receipt for the same is invariably to be given to the police; and that, whenever any such money or property is handed over to the police by a prison officer, a receipt may be obtained for it.

The form of receipt to be used for this purpose is shown below. A book of receipts will shortly be issued to you.

By order,

WM. LAMB.

CIRCULAR No. 334

General Prisons Board, Dublin Castle,
8th December, 1891.

To the Governors (or other officers in charge) of H.M. Prisons.

The Governor of each prison, or his deputy, shall, in future, inspect each meal before, or when being served to prisoners, and shall see that the provisions are of good quality, and are well and carefully cooked.

The fact of such inspection each day will be recorded on the Daily State. (12981).

GOVERNOR'S REPORT.

H. M. Prison, Maryborough,

35th June, 1892.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report with the usual statistical returns, for year ended 31st March, 1892.

The conduct of the subordinate officers, with one exception, has been satisfactory, and they have efficiently discharged their duties. Two warders were transferred to the staff of Mountjoy Prison, and one died.

On the breaking up of Downpatrick Prison three warders were transferred here to augment the staff, in consequence of some of the convicts being removed here.

There were fifty-four convicts in custody at the commencement of the year, and forty-six transferred here during the year from Downpatrick and Mountjoy Prisons. Out of this number thirty-two were released on licence, two on commutation of sentence, and one on expiration, and two removed back to Mountjoy Prison, and sixty-three remaining in custody at end of year.

The intermediate class prisoners, twenty-four of whom were received during the year, were employed at building an engine-house over the new deep spring well pump at back of prison, also two warders' cottages in course of erection, and in cultivating the land outside the prison, which produced an abundant supply of vegetables. The conduct of these prisoners has been satisfactory.

The invalids were employed at shoemaking, tailoring, cooking, repairing clothing and bedding, and cleaning the prison, and their conduct, with a few exceptions, has been generally satisfactory.

The labour convicts have been employed at tailoring, shoemaking, mason work, and ordinary labour, and their conduct has been satisfactory.

There have been no escapes, or attempts at escapes, nor suicides, and no deaths have occurred in the hospital during the year.

The Chaplains have been most attentive, and performed the usual Sunday and weekly services regularly, and the medical officers most diligent and careful to the sick.

Morning and evening school have been carried on daily by the schoolmaster, the majority of the prisoners, being attentive and industrious, made good progress in their instructions.

I certify that the rules laid down for the government of the Prison have, to the best of my knowledge and belief, been complied with, except such cases as were brought under the notice of the Board.

The Visiting Committee visited the prison on 8th April, 13th May, 10th June, 8th July, 12th August, 9th September, 11th November, 9th December, 1891; and on 13th January, 10th February, and 9th March, 1892.

I have the honour to be, sir

Your obedient servant,

ARTHUR C. BULKELEY,

Governor.

Chaplain's
Report.*

SIR,—I have not anything of special interest to record in connexion with the discharge of my duties as Prison Chaplain during the last twelve months. I am more convinced, by every year's experience, that a Chaplain's position does not afford him a good opportunity of judging of the character of the men under his care. Prisoners, with few exceptions, endeavour to make it appear to their clergyman that they are changed characters. Most men, influenced for good, experience the change at the beginning of their imprisonment. In many ways prison life is not helpful to a clergyman's efforts. One of the greatest hindrances—evil companionship—is lessened by every effort to separate the more hardened criminal from those whose evil character is less confirmed. Prisoners, I find, under long sentences, after a time become reconciled to their lot, which, if we except the loss of liberty, is for many not a hard one; at the same time hope, a powerful influence for good, dies. I repeat a suggestion I made in a former report—shorter terms and severer discipline, especially with habitual criminals, would have a more powerful deterrent influence.

I have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servant,

EDMD. L. EVES.

The Chairman, General Prisons Board.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

Maryborough, 18th June, 1892.

SIR,—There is not anything very particular to note about our prison here during the past year. The conduct of the prisoners, taking into account the many infirmities with which they are afflicted, was on the whole satisfactory. They have been attentive to their religious duties, and particularly so at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. I have to make the same remarks that I made in last year's report about the three Irish-speaking prisoners. They have not made any progress in their study of the English language. They have not consequently approached the Sacraments at Easter time. From one cause or other they have a prejudice against this study, and, as a matter of fact, they have not made any real effort to learn it. The Governor and other officials have been as usual courteous, and have assisted in every way the Chaplains in the discharge of their duties.

I have the honour to remain, yours faithfully,

A. PHILLAN, P.P.

To Chairman of Prisons Board.

Copy of LETTER from the GENERAL PRISONS BOARD in reference to report above:—

"General Prisons Board, Dublin Castle,

"18th July, 1892.

"REV. SIR,—With reference to your report of the 18th ultimo on Maryborough Prison for the past year, I am directed to inform you that the General Prisons Board regret to learn that three Irish-speaking convicts have not complied with their religious obligations of approaching the Sacraments at Easter, notwithstanding the fact that an Irish-speaking warder has been placed at Maryborough for the purpose of instructing these convicts in the English tongue.

"The Board desire to point out that on the Chaplain is imposed the duty of affording all prisoners under his spiritual care the consolations of religion, and that, further, when from any sufficient cause he is prevented from performing this duty in person, the rules specially provide that he may nominate a qualified substitute.

"Should you submit the name of an Irish-speaking clergyman (some of whom it is understood reside in the adjoining diocese to yours), the Board will give their assent to this arrangement.

"I am, Rev. Sir, your obedient servant,

"S. H. DOUGLAS, Secretary."

[NOTE.—These convicts have now been about ten years in prison, and every means has been taken for their instruction in the English tongue, which two of them are reported to understand well. They are not willing, however, to learn to speak it. The third prisoner is reported to understand English fairly well and to speak it a little.

It is impossible to think otherwise than that, if these convicts had chosen, they might now be able to speak English fairly well and to understand it thoroughly.]

MEDICAL OFFICERS' REPORT.

Maryborough Prison,
June, 1892.

Medical Officers'
Report.

SIR,—We have the honour to submit the annual report and medical statistical returns bearing on the health of the subordinate officers and prisoners, and sanitary condition of this prison, during the year ended 31st March, 1892.

Twelve members of the prison staff had received medical treatment. In no instance had any grave or serious disease appeared among them, save in the case of second class warder, John O'Dea, who had died from the shock attending perforation of bowel previously undergoing ulceration.

There had been a daily average number of fifty-two convicts receiving hospital treatment for the diseases enumerated in Form (8); there has been no death recorded, nor has there been any removal to the Lunatic Asylum.

Sanitary arrangements are satisfactory, and the water supply from new deep well is pure and abundant.

The Governor, as usual, has afforded us his advice and assistance.

We have the honour to be, sir, your obedient servants,

MAURICE O'CONNELL,
Surgeon, &c., Resident Medical Officer.

MOUNTJOY
CONVICT PRISON.

Governor's
Report.

SIR,—I have the honour to report for the year ended 31st March, 1892, on the Convict Division of the Mountjoy Prisons.

The subordinate officers have, in general, discharged their duties with zeal and efficiency. One principal warder was reduced to the rank of ordinary warder and removed to a local prison. One second class warder was discharged, and one was called on to resign. The Chief Warder, who is an efficient and capable officer, has performed his duties to my entire satisfaction.

Report.

Mr. Condon, who was for several years Deputy Governor, and who was an able and judicious assistant to me, was promoted to the Governorship of a local prison, and Mr. McKenna, who was previously Deputy Governor of Belfast Prison, now fills his place.

I regret having to report the death, during the year, of the Rev. Simpson G. Morrison, Presbyterian Chaplain. The Rev. J. O. Johnston was appointed in his stead.

The conduct of the general body of the convicts has been very good. The great majority of them appeared desirous of complying with the rules and of giving satisfaction in the performance of the work allotted to them. One convict received corporal punishment for a grievous and premeditated assault on a warder with an iron bar.

There was no escape or attempt to escape during the year, although parties of convicts were employed constantly outside the prison, and often close to the public street without an intervening barrier.

The buildings, both within and outside the prison walls, have been kept in good repair by convict labour.

Four additional houses, outside the prison, were completed by convict labour and occupied by married warders on the 1st January, 1892.

The wing of the local prison, which is being converted into cells by convict labour, is approaching completion.

The premises and plots of land, known as Cowley-place, at the right side of the entrance to the prison, which was purchased last year by the General Prisons Board, is being cleared with a view to building on it for the further accommodation of the prison staff, and to save a further portion of the sum annually paid as lodging allowances. The clearing of this property and the houses it is proposed to erect thereon will afford outdoor employment, of a remunerative kind, for a number of the convicts for a considerable time.

The employments of the convicts were generally of the same nature as in the previous year. Between buildings, trades, and manufactures, ample work was available for all.

Bread continues to be supplied from Mountjoy to all the Dublin prisons at about 32 per cent. less than it could be obtained by contract.

The religious instruction of the convicts has been well attended to during the year by their respective chaplains.

The school arrangements continue the same as described in former reports. All convicts who were unable to read, write, and work the simple rules of arithmetic on admission, are instructed in their cells during probation, and required to attend evening school, where they are taught in classes, after being passed to association. The greater part of them appear anxious to learn and have made satisfactory progress. The schoolmasters have been zealous and painstaking.

The library is greatly appreciated by the convicts. The books, when worn, are repaired and re-bound, by convict labour, at a trifling cost, and a new supply is obtained annually.

The rules laid down for the government of the prison have been adhered to, except in such instances as have been brought to the notice of the General Prisons Board.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your most obedient servant,

The Chairman,

Geo. SHERIDAN, Governor.

General Prisons Board.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPALIAN CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

H. M. Prison, Mountjoy,

July 6th, 1892.

SIR,—In submitting my report for the past twelve months, it affords me pleasure to state that I can speak favourably of those committed to my pastoral care in the prison.

Our Sunday and week day services in the church have been duly held, and a regular course of religious instruction gone through.

I note, with satisfaction, as it is a matter of importance to them in reference to future prospects, that some of the younger men have made considerable progress in their school work, being able, in a comparatively short time, to read and write fairly and attain proficiency in other branches of secular education.

The winter and spring have been more than usually a sickly period; but I have again to place on record the help, towards the proper discharge of this department of my duties, I have found in the fine hospital of the prison. In visiting habitually through the wards it is impossible to mistake the ameliorative influence exercised over the patients by careful medical treatment of their ailments, as well as by the kindness of the inmates themselves one toward the other under the combined trials of illness, debility, and pain.

The library of the convicts has been transferred to one of the best suited rooms for the purpose in the gaol. The books, methodically arranged and numbered on shelves, may, for extent and facilities of reference, be considered a credit to those concerned in their management.

In thanking the officers I wish to make special mention of the warders, and, at the same time, to express my obligations, official and personal, to George Sheehan, Esq., the admirable Governor of the prison.

I have the honour, sir, to remain

Your obedient servant,

JOHN H. MACMAHON, M.A., LL.D.

The Hon. Charles F. Bourke, C.B.,

Chairman, General Prisons Board.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHAPLAINS' REPORT.

Mountjoy Prison,

July 6th, 1892.

SIR,—In submitting this, our annual report, it gives us great pleasure to be able to say that the general condition of the prisoners committed to our spiritual care during the year ended 31st March was, on the whole, very satisfactory.

The vast majority of them were most punctual in attending to their various religious duties, and joyfully availed themselves of the opportunities afforded them of hearing the word of God and frequenting the sacraments of the church. Were we to particularize, we should feel bound to say that nothing could be more edifying or more exemplary than the manner in which these duties were performed by the prisoners of the special class.

Of the breaches of prison discipline, which take place from time to time, we do not deem it necessary to say a word. We are glad to see, and we willingly bear testimony to the fact that, under the present disciplinary management, such breaches are gradually becoming fewer in number and less serious in their character. We beg to acknowledge the kindness which we have always received at the hands of the Governor, the medical officers, and the other officers of the prison, and to tender to them our sincere thanks.

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting the report for the half year ending March 31st, during which the prisoners were under my care, I beg to state that their conduct and progress have been, on the whole, satisfactory. By far the most hopeful cases are those where the men are in for their first offence.

The discipline of the prison has, I think, been beneficial to some in leading them to see the error of their former manner of life. In the case of others, who have been in prison before, one cannot report as satisfactorily.

I have the honour to be,

MEDICAL OFFICER'S REPORT.

Mountjoy Convict Prison,

22nd June, 1892.

*Medical Officer's
Report.*

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the annual report on the health of the officers and prisoners, and on the sanitary state of this prison, with the usual medical statistics, for the year ended 31st March last.

There were 59 warders admitted into hospital during the year. The chief ailments were:—Bronchitis, influenza, rheumatism, and tonsillitis. There was no death.

During the year there were 208 convicts admitted into hospital for the diseases specified in the Table headed "Cases of Sickness, &c."

The most numerous were:—Influenza, febricula, bronchitis, rheumatism, diarrhoea, and enteric fever. Of those treated in hospital, 14 were transferred to the Invalid Prison, 2 were discharged to their liberty on medical grounds, 1 was removed to the Criminal Lunatic Asylum, and 2 died.

The most careful examination of the sanitary condition of the prison failed to discover any cause for the occurrence of enteric fever, and it is remarkable that, since my appointment to the medical charge in August, 1863, there was no case of this disease until the 3rd September last, when it first appeared.

The health of the officers and prisoners has been generally good, and the sanitary arrangements are carefully attended to.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Superintendent's
Report.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report and statistical returns for the year ended 31st March, 1892, on the Convict portion of Grangegorman Prison.

The conduct of the subordinate officers has been very good, and they have been attentive to duty.

The convicts have been well behaved, quiet, and peaceable.

The teachers have been most attentive to their duties. The probation and third class prisoners receive cellular instruction, and the associated classes receive instruction in the school-room.

The convicts are principally employed in laundry work, knitting, and sewing, also whitewashing and some painting. Five have been constantly employed in the kitchen, cooking for convict and local prisoners.

The religious instruction of the convicts has been carefully attended to by the chaplains, the Roman Catholic Chaplain being assisted by the Sisters of Charity, and the Protestant Chaplain by a lady visitor.

The medical officer has been most attentive to the sick.

I certify that the rules laid down for the government of the prison have been adhered to, except in such instances as have been brought to the notice of the General Prisons Board.
